If you are teaching, you can ...

1. give learners something to observe
2. tell learners what you want them to know
3. give learners time to think about what they’ve seen and heard
4. let learners practice what they are supposed to do
5. then tell learners to ask questions about anything they still don’t understand

If you are learning, you can ...

1. observe what is being taught
2. listen to what is being taught
3. take time to think about what you see and hear
4. practice what you think you are supposed to do
5. after all this, then ask questions about anything you still don’t understand
