

Center on Disability Studies Hits the Airwaves in 2008

Happy New Year! The Center on Disability Studies, as part of its 20th Anniversary Activities has launched a monthly community television program called Disability Perspectives, which airs on OLELO, Channel 54.

The 12 segment series will combine documentary and magazine style formats with specific topic features in each one hour episode. Episodes include conversations on work and self employment, cultural and special education initiatives, human rights, disability culture, and other issues important to our communities. Also showcased will be videos produced by the CDS.

Air Times:

Every Friday in January
at 6 PM (HST) on Channel 54
Or watch live on the web at www.olelo.org (click on Views 54)

Disability Perspectives welcomes ideas for content. If you have a video you would like to present or an issue you want discussed, please email cccrocke@hawaii.edu.

Episode Six (January):

Join An Hour Apart with Dr. Richard Radtke, a Marine Biologist, CEO and President of the Sea of Dreams Foundation.

Despite his severe disability from multiple sclerosis, Dr. Radtke has successfully kept his dreams within reach. His career includes a mix of field experiences and lab-based research, with five years of study in the Arctic and nine in the Antarctic. Dr. Radtke has used these experiences to shape the world of oceanography and the way in which the world defines disability.

Pacific Voices and Jim Skouge produce "An Hour Apart," an interview series hosted by Steve Brown with esteemed faculty and other guests.
