

Center on Disability Studies Hits the Airwaves

The Center on Disability Studies (CDS), as part of its 20th Anniversary Activities has launched a monthly community television program called Disability Perspectives, airing on OLELO Channel 54.

The 12 segment series will combine documentary and magazine style formats with specific topic features in each one hour episode. Episodes include conversations on work and self employment, cultural and special education initiatives, human rights, disability culture, and other issues important to our communities. Also showcased will be videos produced by the CDS.

Air Times:

Every Friday in March at
6 PM (HST) on Channel 54
Or watch live on the web at

Disability Perspectives welcomes ideas for content. If you have a video you would like to present or an issue you want discussed, please email cccrocke@hawaii.edu.

Episode Eight (March):

A Center on Disability Studies Production, Literacy Strategies That Work features three exemplary schools who demonstrate that meaningful relationships are central to developing literacy skills for all students to succeed. This film highlights teachers who are using innovative approaches to teach literacy in their schools and are making a profound effect on their students and community. Also featured on Episode Eight is Pedagogy of Aloha, a dialogue with Dr. Manu Aluli Meyer who shares her teaching philosophy and experience in working with native Hawaiian students.

"There's stuff to see, to know, because of experience. Ma ka hana ka 'ike. We know by experiencing"
Dr. Manu Meyer

Disability Perspectives Production Team: Sara Banks, Charmaine Crockett, Dalen Kahiapo.
